

THE 18TH IEEM INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY SEMINAR

5 - 6 November 2018
Grand Lapa Hotel, Macau

Tentative program

Intellectual Property and the 4th Industrial Revolution: A Data-driven Economy

Keynote speech

Manuel Desantes Real (University of Alicante)

What does data science mean for innovation, development and intellectual property?

Michel Dumontier (Maastricht University)

Data, AI and Bias

Kate Crawford (New York University)

Copyright and Artificial Intelligence

Gonçalo Cabral (Macao)

Patents and Artificial Intelligence Inventions

Christopher Heath

Virtual Reality and new trade mark uses

Anke Moerland (Maastricht University)

Technology Transfer and Sustainable Development

Anselm Kamperman Sanders (Maastricht University)

Self-enforceable contracts and execution – Blockchain

Speaker to be identified

The World Economic and Social Survey

Marieangela Parra-Lancourt (Development Strategy and Policy Analysis Unit, UN)