

IEEM Conference 2018: Multiple Modernities – Regionalism, Interregionalism, Multilateralism 3 November 2018 Saturday Venue: Handover Gifts Museum of Macao
	8:30 - 9:00	Registration
	9:00 – 9:10 9:10 – 10:50 100 min	Welcoming remarks: José Luís de Sales Marques, IEEM President, Macau Representative of Macau Foundation Opening Panel: Co- Chair: Maria João Rodrigues & José Luís de Sales Marques Continuity and Innovation of Multiple Modernities and Global Governance Agendas: Regionalism, Interregionalism and Multilateralism. Panelists: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Peter Katzenstein, the Walter S. Carpenter, Jr. Professor of International Studies, Cornell University, New York • Thomas Meyer, Emeritus Professor, University of Dortmund, Germany • Mario Telò, member of the Royal Academy of Sciences, Belgium • Qin Yaqing, President of China Foreign Affairs University, Beijing
	10:50 – 11:10	Coffee break
	11:10 – 12:10 60 min	Topic 1: Is Regional Cooperation Driven by Identity Needs? Co-Chair : Salma Bava & Mario Telò The Crisis of the West and European Identity from a Comparative Perspective - Thomas Risse, Director, Otto Suhr Institute for Political Science, Freie Universität Berlin, Germany The Controversial Evolution of Competitive Latin-American Regionalism - Louise Fawcett, Head of Department, Department of Politics and International Relations, University of Oxford, UK

	12:10 - 13:10	Lunch
	13:10 - 14:50 100min	Topic 2: The Comparative Regionalist Dimension Co-Chair: Nathalie Tocci & Thomas Meyer The Future of Regionalism: Competing Varieties of Regional Cooperation - Andrew Gamble, Emeritus Professor, Cambridge and Sheffield Universities, UK Russia and the Eurasian Regionalism - Alexander Libman, Professor of Social Sciences and Eastern European Studies, Ludwig Maximilians University of Munich, Germany South Asia Between Nationalism and Regionalism - Ummu Salma Bava, Chairperson & Jean Monnet Chair, Centre for European Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, Delhi China and Regional Cooperation: Central Asia and Southeast Asia in Comparison? - Weiqing Song, Associate Professor, Programme Coordinator, Master of Arts in European Studies. Jianwei Wang, Director, Institute of Global and Public Affairs, University of Macau, Macau
	14:50 - 15:10	Coffee break
	15:10 - 16:30 80min	Topic 3: Multidimensional Interregionalism and Multilateralism Beyond Trade Relations Co-Chair: Zhou Hong & Peter J. Katzenstein EU Foreign Policy Combining Interregionalism and Multilateralism - Hartmut Mayer, Director, European Studies Centre, St. Antony's College, University of Oxford, UK China's Foreign Policy and Interregional Relations (Africa, Latin America, B&RI) - Yufan Hao, Dean, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Macau, Macau ASEAN Interregionalism: ASEM and Beyond - Evi Fitriani, Senior lecturer of the International Relations Department, Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, Universitas Indonesia, Indonesia

	16: 30 – 18:50 140min	Topic 4: Concluding Panel: Towards a New Post- Hegemonic Multilayered Multilateralism? Chair: Qin Yaqing and Mario Telò Panelists: Maria Joao Rodrigues, FEPS President, Vice president of S&D Group European parliament Nathalie Tocci, IAI Director, special advisor to HR for foreign policy, EU Zhou Hong, Deputy Chair, Academic Division for International Studies, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, China Moonsung Kang, Associate Dean and Professor, Division of International Studies/Graduate School of International Studies, Korea University, Korea Antonio de Aguiar Patriota, Former Minister of Foreign Affairs of Brazil Peter Katzenstein, the Walter S. Carpenter, Jr. Professor of International Studies, Cornell University, New York
	18:50 – 19:10	Concluding Remarks about the future research agenda Qin Yaqing, Thomas Meyer, Mario Telò, José Luís de Sales Marques

INSTITUTE OF EUROPEAN STUDIES OF MACAU
澳門歐洲研究學會
INSTITUTO DE ESTUDOS EUROPEUS DE MACAU

Speakers' info

José Luís de Sales Marques

José Luís de Sales Marques has been President of the Board of Directors of the Institute of European Studies, Macau (IEEM) since January of 2002. From 1993–2001, he served as the Mayor of Macau. His research, teaching, and writing focus on Asia–Europe relations, EU–China dialogue, regional integration, and urban studies.

Peter Katzenstein

Peter Katzenstein is the Walter S. Carpenter, Jr. Professor of International Studies at Cornell University where he has taught since 1973. His interests cover a number of different issues and areas of world politics. His current project is focused on World Views in World Politics.

Recent books include Protean Power: Exploring the Uncertain and Unexpected in World Politics (Cambridge University Press, 2018), co-edited with Lucia Seybert. Anglo-America and Its Discontents: Civilizational Identities beyond West and East (Routledge, 2012). Sinicization and the Rise of China: Civilizational Processes beyond East and West (Routledge, 2012). Civilizations in World Politics: Plural and Pluralist Perspectives (Routledge, 2010). He is the author, coauthor, editor and coeditor over 40 books, edited volumes or monographs and over 100 articles or book chapters.

Additional information about his scholarship, teaching and professional engagement is contained on his personal website: <https://pkatzenstein.org/>

Thomas Meyer

Born 1943 in Leipzig

Academic Career

- Studied Political Science, Philosophy and German Literature at Frankfurt/ University, Germany.
- PhD 1973 at Frankfurt University.
- Habilitation 1977 Freie University at Berlin.
- 1978-1994 Professor of Political Science (Political Theory) at University of Siegen.
- 1995-2009 Senior Professor of Political Science and Head of the Department of Political Science at the University of Dortmund.
- Director of several research projects by the DFG (most prestigious German Research Foundation).
Fields of specialization in research and academic publication: Comparative Social Democracy, European Studies, Mass Media and Politics, Religious and Political Fundamentalism.
- Visiting Professor and guest lecturer at numerous universities, particularly in South-East and East Asia.
- Academic Advisor to the European Commission for Social Sciences and Humanities 2000-2007.
Member of the European Research Network of Excellence Garnet since 2004

INSTITUTE OF EUROPEAN STUDIES OF MACAU
澳門歐洲研究學會
INSTITUTO DE ESTUDOS EUROPEUS DE MACAU

Mario Teló

Mario Teló is Professor of International relations and “J. Monnet Chair”, Université Libre de Bruxelles and at the LUISS University, Rome. He is also Emeritus President of the Institute for European Studies (IEE, Brussels), was elected as a Member of The Royal Academy of Sciences in 2006.. He served as consultant for the EU Commission (2001-2006), the Presidency of the European Council (2000, 2007) as well as for the E.P. He published: Europe. A Civilian Power?, Palgrave, 2005; European Union and New Regionalism, (ed) Ashgate, 2001, 2007 and 2014) International Relations. A European Perspective, Foreword by R.O.Keohane, Ashgate 2009 (in French in 2008 and Mandarin in 2011), The EU and global governance, Routledge 2009 and EU foreign policy, 2013., Politics of transatlantic trade negotiations, Ashgate 2014, Interregionalism and the EU, Ashgate, 2014 Recently he published: Regionalism in Hard Times, Routledge, 2016. Visiting professor in many European, American (among them FGV) and East Asian Universities (CFAU, Wuhan, Fudan, Macao, Bandung, Hanoi, Chulalongkorn), he was Senior scholar of the global research networks GARNET (FP6) and GR:EEEN (FP7) and still is coordinator of the Erasmus Mundus doctoral program GEM (“Globalization Europe multilateralism”), including universities of 5 continents and 65 PhD students, among them Chinese, Indians, Philipinos, Japanese, Brazilian, Zimbabwan, South African, US citizens. He takes part in the public debate about the future of the EU since many decades.

Qin Yaqing

QIN Yaqing is President and Professor of China Foreign Affairs University (CFAU) and Chancellor of China Diplomatic Academy, Executive Vice-president of China National Association for International Studies (CNAIS) and editor-in-chief of Foreign Affairs Review, the academic journal of CFAU and CNAIS. He was on the resource team for the UN High Panel for Challenges, Threats and Changes (2003-04) and worked as Special Assistant to the Chinese Eminent Person, China-ASEAN Eminent Persons Group (2005).

Qin’s main academic interest is International Relations (IR) theory and has recently focused on the exploration of Chinese cultural and philosophical traditions for developing IR theory. He has also done research on global and regional governance and China’s foreign policy. As a leading scholar and professor in the field of international relations in China, Qin has published extensively, including Hegemonic System and International Conflicts; Power, Institutions and Culture; Relations and Process, etc.

He got his Ph. D. and M.A. in Political Science at University of Missouri-Columbia, USA.

INSTITUTE OF EUROPEAN STUDIES OF MACAU
澳門歐洲研究學會
INSTITUTO DE ESTUDOS EUROPEUS DE MACAU

Thomas Risse

Thomas Risse is professor of international politics at the Otto Suhr Institute of Political Science, Freie Universität Berlin, Germany. He has been co-ordinator of the Collaborative Research Center 700 'Governance of Areas of Limited Statehood' and is co-director of the Research College 'Transformative Power of Europe', both funded by the German Research Foundation (DFG). He is also member of the DFG Senate and Joint Committee. His latest publications include the Oxford Handbook of Governance and Limited Statehood (Oxford University Press, 2018, ed. with Tanja A. Börzel and Anke Draude), Domestic Politics and Norm Diffusion in International Relations (Routledge, 2017), the Oxford Handbook of Comparative Regionalism (Oxford University Press, 2016, ed. with Tanja A. Börzel), European Public Spheres. Politics is Back (Cambridge University Press, 2015, ed.), "External Actors, State-Building, and Service Provision in Areas of Limited Statehood" (Special Issue of Governance, 2014, ed. with Stephen Krasner). Risse received his PhD. in political science in 1987 from the University of Frankfurt, Germany. During his career, he has taught in the U.S. at Cornell, Yale, Stanford, and Harvard universities as well as the University of Wyoming, in Europe at the University of Konstanz, Germany, and the European University Institute, Florence, Italy.

Louise Fawcett

Louise Fawcett is Professor of International Relations and the Wilfrid Knapp Fellow and Lecturer in Politics, St Catherine's College, University of Oxford, 1995 - present. She is currently Head of Oxford's Department of Politics and International Relations (DPIR). She has previously served as Senior Tutor and Vice Master at St Catherine's College. Her research focuses on comparative regionalism and the international relations of developing countries, notably the Middle East. Major publications include: Iran and the Cold War, Cambridge University Press, 2009; Regionalism in World Politics (ed. with Andrew Hurrell), Oxford University Press, 1995. Japanese edition 1998; The Third World Beyond the Cold War (ed. with Yezid Sayigh), Oxford University Press, 2000; The International Relations of the Middle East, editor, Oxford University Press, 2005; 2009; 2013, 2016); Regionalism and Governance in the Americas (ed. with Monica Serrano), London, Palgrave, 2005; Interregionalism and the European Union (ed. with Mario Telo and Frederik Ponjaert) Ashgate 2015. She is currently working on a fifth revised edition of the International Relations of the Middle East and a single author book on international relations over the past century. Professor Fawcett is a member of the editorial board of the UK journal International Affairs.

Andrew Gamble

Andrew Gamble is Professor of Politics at the University of Sheffield and Emeritus Professor of Politics at the University of Cambridge. He is a Fellow of the British Academy and the Academy of Social Sciences, and a professorial Fellow at the Sheffield Political Economy Research Institute (SPERI). His most recent books are Crisis without end? The unravelling of western prosperity (2014) and Can the welfare state survive? (2016). He was a joint editor of Political Quarterly and New Political Economy for more than ten years and he has published widely on political economy, British politics, and political theory. In 2005 he received the Isaiah Berlin Prize from the UK Political Studies

INSTITUTE OF EUROPEAN STUDIES OF MACAU
澳門歐洲研究學會
INSTITUTO DE ESTUDOS EUROPEUS DE MACAU

Association for lifetime contribution to political studies. Dr Meyer holds an MA and PhD in Politics, an MSc in Financial Economics and an Executive MBA from different London universities. He is a specialist on European and global economic and political issues and an expert in strategy development, digital publishing and technology. Furthermore, Dr Meyer is a frequent commentator on political and economic issues on major news channels such as the CNBC, BBC News, Sky News, Al Jazeera International, ZDF, France 24 and SBS Australia as well as a regular contributor to newspapers and magazines such as The Guardian, DIE ZEIT, El Pais, Foreign Affairs and the New York Times

Alexander Libman

Alexander Libman is Professor of Social Sciences and Eastern European Studies at the Ludwig Maximilians University of Munich. Before that, he worked at the German Institute for International and Security Affairs SWP as an associate in the Eastern Europe and Eurasia division and at the Frankfurt School of Finance & Management as an assistant professor of International Political Economy. He holds a PhD degree from the University of Mannheim. His main research interests include Russian politics (especially its subnational dimension) and regional organizations in the post-Soviet Eurasia. His work was awarded the Knut Wicksell Prize from the European Public Choice Society; the Gordon Tullock Prize from the Public Choice Society; and the Ovsievich Memorial Prize from the Russian Academy of Sciences and the Leontieff Center. His most important publications include Re-Evaluating Regional Organizations: Beyond the Smokescreen of Official Mandates (2017, with Evgeny Vinokurov), Causes and Consequences of Democratization: The Regions of Russia (2015, with Anastassia Obydenkova), Autocratic and Democratic External Influences in the Post-Soviet Eurasia (edited volume, 2015, with Anastassia Obydenkova), Holding-Together Regionalism: Twenty Years of Post-Soviet Integration (2012, with Evgeny Vinokurov) and Eurasian Integration: Challenges of Transcontinental Regionalism (2012, with Evgeny Vinokurov), as well as articles in World Politics, Comparative Political Studies, Political Studies, Review of International Organizations, Review of International Political Economy and Post-Soviet Affairs.

Ummu Salma Bava

Prof. Dr Ummu Salma Bava is Jean Monnet Chair and Chairperson, Centre for European Studies at Jawaharlal Nehru University. With 30 years of teaching and research experience, she is one of the leading Indian experts on EU, German, Indian foreign and security policy, regional integration, emerging powers, norms and global governance and Peace and conflict resolution. She has numerous publications and has been Visiting Professor at University of Würzburg, Leipzig, ULB, Brussels. She has also been conferred the prestigious Order of Merit (Bundesverdienstkreuz) by the President of the Federal Republic of Germany (2012). She is Board Member on the Research Advisory Council, Stiftung Wissenschaft und Politik, Berlin and Academic Advisory Board, German Institute of Global and Area Studies, Hamburg and speaks fluent German.

INSTITUTE OF EUROPEAN STUDIES OF MACAU
澳門歐洲研究學會
INSTITUTO DE ESTUDOS EUROPEUS DE MACAU

Weiqing Song

Prof. Weiqing SONG is an associate professor of political science and coordinator of MA Programme in European Studies, with the Department of Government and Public Administration, Faculty of Social Sciences, the University of Macau. He holds a PhD degree in political science from the University of Siena, Italy. His research focuses on Chinese foreign policy, particularly in its neighborhood and with respect to global governance, and European politics with an emphasis on the European Union and European foreign policy. Professor Song is the author or editor of several books on Chinese foreign policy and Sino-European relations, including China's Approach to Central Asia: the Shanghai Cooperation Organization, Routledge, June 2016 and China, the European Union and International Politics of Global Governance, Palgrave Macmillan, December 2015. Besides, Professor Song's research articles have appeared in various international peer-reviewed academic journals and edited volumes.

Jianwei Wang

Jianwei Wang is Professor in the Department of Government and Public Administration at the University of Macau. He holds a Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Michigan and a B.A. and M.A. in International Politics from Fudan University (Shanghai). Previously, he was Distinguished Professor of Political Science at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point. He has also served as a research fellow and visiting scholar at George Washington University's Sigur Center for Asian Studies, the Atlantic Council of the United States, the East-West Center (Hawaii), and the United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research in Geneva. His teaching and research focus on East Asian politics and security, Chinese and American politics and foreign policy, Sino-American and Sino-Japanese relations, and UN peacekeeping operations. He has published extensively in these areas.

Hartmut Mayer

HARTMUT MAYER is Director of the European Studies Centre at St. Antony's College, University of Oxford and the Acting Director of the EUROPÆUM, a network of about a dozen leading European universities. He is also Adj.-Professor in European and Eurasian Studies at SAIS Europe, Johns Hopkins University in Bologna, Italy. Since 1998, he has been a Fellow and Tutor in Politics (International Relations) at St. Peter's College, University of Oxford -- a tenured position from which is currently seconded in order to direct the EUROPÆUM.

Hartmut studied history, politics and drama at the Free University of Berlin, followed by graduate studies in international relations at the Fletcher School of Diplomacy, Tufts University (M.A.L.D.), at Harvard University and at Cambridge University (M.Phil. in International Relations, Gonville and Caius College). He did his doctorate at St. Antony's College, University of Oxford.

Over the years, he held external research posts (Stiftung Wissenschaft und Politik, UPI Helsinki and JSPS Scholar at Waseda University) and several visiting professorships, among them at Hitotsubashi University (2010), at the University of Hamburg and the GIGA German Institute for Global and Area

INSTITUTE OF EUROPEAN STUDIES OF MACAU
澳門歐洲研究學會
INSTITUTO DE ESTUDOS EUROPEUS DE MACAU

Studies (2011-2014), at ULB Brussels (2014), at Science Po Paris (2014) and at SAIS Johns Hopkins in Washington, DC (2016).

He has written several books and articles on European External Relations, Regionalism in Europe and Asia, EU-Japan Relations, Anglo-German Relations and German Foreign Policy.

Prior to his academic career he worked as a free lance journalist for about 10 years, among others with Sueddeutsche Zeitung and DIE ZEIT. Since 1997, he has been a political consultant for Oxford Analytica as Region Head Europe for more than 20 years now."

Yufan Hao

Hao Yufan is Chair Professor of Political Science and Dean of the Faculty of Social Sciences at the University of Macau. He obtained his M.A. (1984) and Ph.D. (1989) from Johns Hopkins University's School of Advanced International Studies. He was a MacArthur Fellow at Harvard University's Center for International Affairs (1988-1989) and in 1990 joined the faculty at Colgate University, where from 2003 to 2005 he held the Robert Hung Ngai Ho Professorship of Asian Studies. Professor Hao joined the University of Macau in 2005 and until 2013, served as Dean of the Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities. Previously, he has been a senior visiting professor at Beijing Normal University, Peking University, Tsinghua University, and Renmin University of China, and has also been an international fellow at the Johns Hopkins Nanjing Center, a senior visiting fellow at Keio University, and a visiting fellow at the Brookings Institution. He holds honorary adjunct professorships at Fudan University, Shanghai University of International Studies, Beijing Foreign Affairs University, Sun Yat-sen University, and Jinan University. He has written and edited 31 books and monographs and authored more than 50 journal articles and book chapters on Chinese politics, Chinese foreign relations, U.S.-China relations, and Macao studies, publishing in such journals as Asian Survey, Asian Perspective, Journal of Democracy, Journal of Contemporary China, the China Quarterly, Issues and Studies, Chinese Social Science Quarterly and Historical Research. His most recent books include Sino – U.S. Energy triangle (Routledge, 2015); Social Justice in Transitional China (Guangxi Normal University Press, 2013); Macaology: An Introduction (Chinese Social Science Academic Press 2011); Macau and U.S-China Relations (Lexington Books, Maryland, 2011).

Evi Fitriani

Evi is a senior lecturer of the the International Relations Department, Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, Universitas Indonesia (Dept. HI FISIP UI) and the Head of the Department from 2012 to 2016. Currently, she is the Head of Miriam Budiardjo Resource Center of FISIP UI. She is co-founder of the University's Master Program of European Studies as well as the ASEAN Study Center of FISIP UI. She is also the Indonesian Country Coordinator of the Network of East Asian Think-tanks (NEAT), a second track platform of the ASEAN Plus Three (APT). She completed her doctorate program at the Australian National University (ANU) in 2011. She was trained in international relations discipline in Indonesia, the UK, and the USA, as well as in Japan, Sweden, the Netherlands, and Hungary. She has obtained more than 13 international awards, including the British Chevening Awards, Fulbright Scholarship, Australian Development Scholarships, JICA and SIDA Grants as well as EU Fellowships

INSTITUTE OF EUROPEAN STUDIES OF MACAU
澳門歐洲研究學會
INSTITUTO DE ESTUDOS EUROPEUS DE MACAU

and -as a member of an Asia-Europe consortium- Jean Monet Network Grant. Over the last 20 years, she has involved in international collaborative research or projects. Evi's research interests are Indonesian foreign policy, ASEAN, Asian regionalism, Indonesia-Australia relations, and Asia-Europe relations.

Evi's publications include Southeast Asians and the Asia-Europe Meeting (ASEM): State's interests and institution's longevity (ISEAS Singapore 2014). She is the author of eight book chapters in volumes written with international peer groups including Asian Countries' Strategies towards the European Union in an Inter-regionalist Context (National Taiwan University Press, 2015), Europe in Emerging Asia (Rowman & Littlefield International, 2015), The Yudhoyono Presidency: Indonesia's decade of stability and stagnation (ISEAS Singapore, 2015), and Inter-regionalism and the European Union: Competing Perspectives on Regional Cooperation (Ashgate, 2015) as well as Muddy Boots and Smart Suits: Researching Asia-Pacific Affairs (ISEAS Singapore, 2017). She also contributed to policy recommendation to the ASEM Summit, Asia-Europe Connectivity Vision 2025: Challenges and Opportunities (ERIA, 2016). Her latest publications appear in the Journal of Contemporary Southeast Asia (April 2017) on "The Trump Presidency and Indonesia" and in the Pacific Review (2018) on "Indonesian Perceptions of the rise of China: dare you, dare you not".

Maria Joao Rodrigues

Maria João Rodrigues is Member of the European Parliament, Vice-President of the S&D Group and President of FEPS - European Foundation of Progressive Studies.

Rodrigues was elected Member of the European Parliament in 2014, becoming a member of the S&D Group, the second most important EP Group, with 190 members coming from the 28 Member States. As S&D Vice-President, she is in charge of general coordination and interface with the other EU institutions and member of the Committees of EMPL and ECON.

After being a Minister of Employment in Portugal, she was policy maker working in several posts in the European Institutions since 2000, notably in the leading teams of EU Presidencies. During her work she helped deliver important outcomes areas such as: the Lisbon Strategy and the EU2020 Strategy; the EU Agenda for Globalization and the Strategic Partnerships with the USA, China, Russia, India and Brazil for a New Growth Model; policy; the new Erasmus for mobility, New Skills for New Jobs, The European Pillar of Social Rights, responses to The Eurozone crisis. More recently, Road Map and Annual Programming for the European Union.

In academic terms, she was professor of European economic policies in the European Studies Institute – "Université Libre de Bruxelles" and in the Lisbon University Institute. She was also the chair of the European Commission Advisory Board for socio-economic sciences. She is author of more than one hundred publications, notably of many books.

In 2017 she was also elected to become the President of FEPS, The European Foundation of Progressive Studies, with around forty foundations across Europe and the world

INSTITUTE OF EUROPEAN STUDIES OF MACAU
澳門歐洲研究學會
INSTITUTO DE ESTUDOS EUROPEUS DE MACAU

Nathalie Tocci

Nathalie Tocci is Director of the Istituto Affari Internazionali, Honorary Professor at the University of Tübingen, and Special Adviser to EU HRVP Federica Mogherini, on behalf of whom she wrote the European Global Strategy and is now working on its implementation, notably in the field of security and defence.

Previously she held research positions at the Centre for European Policy Studies, Brussels, the Transatlantic Academy, Washington and the Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies, Florence.

Her research interests include European foreign policy, conflict resolution, the Middle East and the Mediterranean.

Her major publications include: Framing the EU's Global Strategy, Springer-Palgrave Macmillan, 2017 (author); The EU, Promoting Regional Integration, and Conflict Resolution, Springer-Palgrave Macmillan, 2017 (co-editor); Turkey and the European Union, Palgrave Macmillan, 2015 (co-author); Multilateralism in the 21st Century, Routledge, 2013 (co-editor), Turkey's European Future: Behind the Scenes of America's Influence on EU-Turkey Relations, New York University Press, 2011 (author); and The EU and Conflict Resolution, Routledge, 2007 (author).

Nathalie is the 2008 winner of the Anna Lindh award for the study of European Foreign Policy.

Zhou Hong

Professor Dr. Zhou Hong holds Ph.D. in comparative history and Bachelor in German Studies. She was the former Director General of the Institute of European Studies until 2014. She is now the Deputy Director of the CASS Academic Division for International Studies, President of the Chinese Association for European Studies, Director of the Center of International Development and Cooperation and Welfare Promotion, Board Member of the China Economic and Social Council, Board Member of the Chinese People's Institute of Foreign Affairs, and a deputy to the 12th and 13th National Congress of PRC.

Moonsung Kang

Professor Moonsung Kang joined faculty of Division of International Studies at Korea University in 2006. Before joining the faculty, he worked at Korea Institute for International Economic Policy, a government-funded research institution, as Research Fellow. He has participated into multilateral and regional trade negotiations, and advised the Korean government for international trade policy. His research interests include theoretical analyses on strategic trade policy, international trade rules and institutions, including the multilateral trading system and regionalism. His recent papers and books include Korea's Growth-Driven Trade Policies: Inclusive or Exclusive?; Northeast Asian Economic Cooperation in the Gradual Unification Process and Planning for Economic Integration of North and South Korea; Protection of Intellectual Property Rights and Subsidy Policy for Foreign Direct

INSTITUTE OF EUROPEAN STUDIES OF MACAU
澳門歐洲研究學會
INSTITUTO DE ESTUDOS EUROPEUS DE MACAU

Investment; Industry-Specific Effects of Antidumping Activities: Evidence from the U.S., the EU, and China; Asia's Strategic Participation in the Group of 20 for Global Economic Governance Reform: From the Perspective of International Trade; Strategic Investment Policy: Role of Knowledge Spillovers; Regional Production Networks, Service Offshoring, and Productivity in East Asia; The Great Recession and Import Protection: The Role of Temporary Trade Barriers (Published by CEPR and the World Bank); Understanding Agreements on TRIPS and Subsidies in Tandem; etc. Professor Kang received his B.A. in Economics from Korea University and his Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Wisconsin at Madison. He also currently serves as Associate Dean of Division of International Studies at Korea University.

Antonio de Aguiar Patriota

Antonio de Aguiar Patriota was appointed Ambassador to Italy, Malta and San Marino in August 2016. He was the Permanent Representative of Brazil to the United Nations from 2013 to 2016. He served as Foreign Minister (2011-2013), Deputy Foreign Minister (2009-2010) and Ambassador to the United States (2007-2009).

During his period as Ambassador to the UN, he was Chair of the 60th and 61st Sessions of the Commission on the Status of Women and chair of the Peacebuilding Commission of the UN (2013-2014). During his diplomatic career, he was also posted in Geneva (1983-1987 and 1999-2003), New York (1994-1999), Beijing (1987-1988) and Caracas (1988-1990).

Born in Rio de Janeiro in 1954, he graduated from Brazil's Diplomatic Academy in 1979, having studied Philosophy at the University of Geneva. He was awarded an Honorary Doctorate in Public Service by Chatham University in 2008. Among his publications are "The UN Security Council after the Gulf War" (1998) and two volumes of "Speeches, articles and interviews" during his period as Foreign Minister. His article "Is the World Ready for Cooperative Multipolarity?" was recently published in CEBRI (Brazilian Center for International Relations) magazine.

Ambassador Patriota is a member of Team of External Advisors of the 72nd United Nations General Assembly. He has been appointed a member of the "Leaders for Peace" initiative under the chairmanship of former French Prime Minister Raffarin.

Ambassador Patriota is married to Tania Cooper Patriota, who until recently was the Deputy Special Representative of the UN Secretary General for Colombia. They have two sons, Miguel and Thomas.